FREEDOM BAKERY

Website Project Documentation

1. Project overview

Freedom Bakery is a single-page bakery and cake shop website. It introduces the bakery, shows cakes and baked goods with prices and descriptions, advertises seasonal offers, explains custom cake options, and provides shop contact information and opening hours. The browser title in the submitted HTML is “Bakery and Cake Shop.”

The page is designed as an online shop presentation or menu. Visitors can browse from top to bottom or use the navigation bar to jump to Home, Menu, Offers, Custom Cakes, or Contact. The visual theme uses an antiquewhite background with brown, pink, and cream colors.

2. Features and interactions

- Navigation bar: Links to Home, Menu, Offers, Custom Cakes, and Contact. Each link jumps to a matching page ID, such as #menu or #contact.
- Home / welcome section: Introduces Freedom Bakery with the “Baked fresh, every morning” message, a short description, and buttons linking to the menu and offers.
- Bakery image: Displays a circular image from the local file waguri.png, styled with a black border and brown outline.
- Top picks menu: Shows eight product cards, including Pistachio Rose Cake, Strawberry Pastry, Black Forest Pastry, Chocolate Cookies, Butter Cookies, Vanilla Cupcakes, and Chocolate Babka. Each card includes an image, description, and rupee price.
- Product card hover effect: Menu cards move slightly upward on hover using a CSS transform and transition.
- Seasonal offers: Displays three promotional cards: a festive gift box, pumpkin spice loaf, and a discount on custom cakes, with offer details and pricing.
- Custom cake design: Lists birthday, wedding, anniversary, and theme-based cakes. Its button jumps to the Contact section.
- Contact information: Displays the shop address in Ginza, Tokyo, a phone number, an email address, and opening hours.
- Contact cards: Separates address, contact information, and opening hours into cards that lift and gain a shadow on hover.
- Footer: Displays a copyright line, owner name, class/group label, and year.

3. How it was developed

- HTML document: The page is built in one HTML file. The head contains the document title and internal CSS; the body contains the navigation, page sections, product cards, offers, contact details, and footer.
- Content structure: Elements such as nav, ul, li, a, div, section, h1, h2, h3, p, img, address, and footer organize the content.
- Anchor navigation: IDs such as home, menu, offers, custom, and contact are assigned to elements. Navigation links use matching fragment references so the browser scrolls to the selected section.
- CSS theme: The stylesheet sets a global margin and padding reset, antiquewhite page background, brown navigation and footer, pink headings and buttons, cream card backgrounds, borders, rounded corners, and shadows.
- Flexbox layout: display:flex is used in the navigation, hero section, product-card groups, and contact-card group. flex-wrap lets menu cards wrap onto additional rows.
- Reusable styling classes: Classes such as .btn, .heading, .set, .menu-card, .off-card, .cust-set, .con-set, and .con-card provide consistent styling.

- Hover and transition effects: CSS :hover selectors and transition properties animate menu cards, buttons, and contact cards when visitors point at them.
- Images and external resources: The hero image uses the local relative path waguri.png. Several menu images load from external image URLs and depend on those hosts remaining available.

The submitted source uses HTML and CSS. It does not include JavaScript, a server-side application, a product database, or an online ordering/payment integration.

4. Current limitations and accurate behavior

- No ordering or checkout system: The menu and offer cards display products and prices, but do not provide add-to-cart, checkout, order placement, or payment functionality.
- Custom cake button is navigation only: The “Order a Custom Cake” button jumps to the Contact section. It does not submit a cake order or store customization details.
- Contact details are informational: Phone, email, address, and opening hours are displayed as text. The supplied HTML has no contact form or backend that processes enquiries.
- Local hero image dependency: The file waguri.png must exist at the relative path referenced by the HTML. If it is missing or moved, the hero image will not load.
- External menu image dependency: Product images are fetched from third-party URLs. They may fail if the visitor is offline, the host blocks requests, or a URL changes.
- Responsive layout may need refinement: Flexbox and flex-wrap are used, but there are no media queries. Large hero text, fixed card widths, and spacing may need mobile-specific styling.
- Static product information: Product names, descriptions, prices, and offers are hard-coded in HTML. There is no database or admin interface for dynamic updates.
- No JavaScript behavior: The visible interactions are anchor navigation and CSS hover effects. There is no JavaScript-driven ordering, tracking, or dynamic updating.
